

Bullit 600

inboard

The Alumax Bullit 600 Inboard is undeniably lightweight. This aluminum tender is remarkably shallow yet offers excellent sailing characteristics and unmatched stability. The Bullit 600 can safely remain in the water during winter and even withstand freezing conditions.

Every Bullit leaving the Alumax workshop is welded by hand. The technical installation and finishing are also handcrafted. It's 100% top-quality craftsmanship from the Netherlands. The production process is flexible, allowing us to offer custom-made solutions.

Standard configuration

V-bottom with spray rail, self-draining checkered floor, double bottom with air chamber. Smooth aluminum foredeck, U-shaped bench at the front with ventilated storage space for items like cushions, steps on both sides of the boat. Steering console with storage and seating in the front, rear bench with storage and space for a fixed fuel tank, aluminum railing on the gunwale with four aluminum cleats. The solid rubber fender has an aluminum core, making it functional as a fender. Swim platform spans the entire width of the boat, offering a large surface area that also provides protection when reversing. Stainless steel trailer eye on the bow and anode on the hull. All hatches are equipped with latches, hinges, and drainage pipes, welded from seawater-resistant aluminum and delivered with an owner's manual and CE certification.
